Books for Children & Youth

- Antiracist Baby | Ibram X. Kendi
Age Range: Baby-3 years
Introduces the youngest readers and the grown-ups in their lives to the concept and power of anti-racism.
- We're Different, We're the Same | Bobbi Kates
Age Range: 3-7 years
Elmo and his Sesame Street friends help teach toddlers and the adults in their lives that everyone is the same on the inside, and it's our differences that make this wonderful world, which is home to us all, an interesting—and special—place.
- Let's Talk about Race | Julius Lester
Age Range: 4-8 years
Julius Lester says, "I write because our lives are stories. If enough of those stories are told, then perhaps we will begin to see that our lives are the same story. The differences are merely in the details."
- Princess Hair | Sharee Miller
Age Range: 4-8 years
Shines a spotlight on the beauty and diversity of black hair, showing young readers that every kind of hair is princess hair.
- Something Happened in Our Town: A Child's Story about Racial Injustice | Marianne Celano, PhD, ABPP, Marietta Collins, PhD, and Ann Hazzard, PhD, ABPP
Age Range: 4-8 years

The story aims to answer children's questions about such traumatic events and to help children identify and counter racial injustice in their own lives.

- How it Went Down | Kevlar Magoon

Age Range: 14-18 years

When 16-year-old Tariq, a black teen, is shot and killed by a white man, every witness has a slightly different perception of the chain of events leading up to the murder. This is an important book about perception and race.

Supporting LGBTQ Children & Youth
